Honorable John H. Finley, President of the University

DEAR SIR: I take pleasure in transmitting herewith, as a part of the State Historian's annual report, and in recommending for early publication, Ecclesiastical Records, State of New York, Volume VII, Index.

Such an index has for years been demanded by students of the early Dutch records of New York. In response to that demand authority was granted me by your predecessor, the late Honorable Andrew S. Draper, to secure the preparation of an index, thus making more readily available a large store of historic material contained in the six volumes heretofore issued under the auspices of the State Historian. The work was performed under legislative sanction by the late Reverend Edward T. Corwin D.D., the original compiler of the printed records.

I desire here to acknowledge our indebtedness to A. J. F. vanLaer, State Archivist, for some helpful hints regarding this index, and for his additions to the list of ministers in Brazil.

Owing to your expressed desire to have an expert collation made of the pagination of the index in manuscript, with the printed books, the appearance of this work has been delayed until the present time. It is believed, however, that its value to scholars has been greatly enhanced by this collation and review.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Yours very sincerely

JAMES AUSTIN HOLDEN

PREFACE

The present volume is the outcome of efforts begun by the Honorable Hugh Hastings while State Historian. The Ecclesiastical Records of the State of New York were originally compiled under the auspices of the State Historian by the Reverend Edward T. Corwin D.D. Litt.D., who was well fitted for the task by reason of his familiarity with the Dutch language, and by his personal acquaintance with the ecclesiastical authorities in Holland, where he lived for some time. The General Synod of the Reformed Dutch church originally started this work, and through its generosity much of this valuable material relating to the ecclesiastical history of New York State, and including every denomination from the earliest Dutch times, has been secured for the students of religious history.<sup>1</sup> The first and second volumes of these records were published in 1901, the third and fourth in 1902 and the fifth and sixth in 1905. It was the original intention of both Mr Hastings and Doctor Corwin to complete this valuable and monumental work by the addition of a proper index. In their present condition, except to the student who is possessed of infinite patience and an abundance of time, a great deal of the value of these really interesting and important documents is lost. As has been stated, they are not merely a compilation of the reports of the Reformed Dutch churches in America to the Classis of Amsterdam, but through their collateral references, selected from the contemporary written records either in manuscript or printed form, they contain the history of nearly every religious denomination then prominent in the New World, having more especial relation to those to be found within the boundaries of New York as a colony, and likewise as a state from 1621 to 1810.

Through the efforts of Mr Hastings, an item was placed in the supply bill of 1907 calling for an appropriation of $1500 for preparing a suitable index for the Ecclesiastical Records. During the compilation and preparation of these records, Doctor Corwin acquired a great deal of index material and made ready therefore to enter upon the final part of the work.

<sup>1</sup> For the history of the procurement of copies of the Ecclesiastical Records from Holland and other sources, see 1:5-31.

In the summer of 1907, Mr Hastings was succeeded by the Honorable Victor H. Paltsits. The appropriation was allowed to lapse, and nothing further was done in the matter until the accession to office of the present State Historian.

Soon after he took office, in May 1911, he began to receive letters from prominent ecclesiastics and students of the early colonial period asking that the work on the index of these Ecclesiastical Records might be completed. These letters urging publication have been continued up to the present, showing that interest in the index has by no means died out. Taking the matter up, the State Historian found that, regardless of the fact that the work had been stopped officially, Doctor Corwin had continued his labors on the index for his own use, and believed that it could be finished within a year's time. Meanwhile the office of the State Historian had by legislative action been incorporated into the body of the Education Department as the Division of History. The State Historian, as chief of that division, then procured the consent of the late Commissioner of Education, the Honorable Andrew S. Draper, to place in the supply bill for 1912 an item, which was later approved by Governor John A. Dix, for the employment of an expert to prepare an index to the Ecclesiastical Records at an expense not exceeding $500, this being the amount which, in his desire to have the undertaking properly completed, Doctor Corwin agreed to accept, and he at once started on the work of making the index.

The time, strength and ability which Doctor Corwin devoted to this work, no less than the cash contribution in the difference between the original and the later appropriation, merit the commendation and praise of historical students and all others interested in preserving in permanent form the annals of our commonwealth. It is much to be regretted that Doctor Corwin did not live long enough to see the result of all his work in print.

The index was completed in June 1913, and is at last, after unavoidable delays and a complete and expert collation as to its pagination with the text as printed, submitted in this form to the public, with the hope that students of the colonial period will find it a key to a more complete knowledge than is now possessed of the civil, educational and ecclesiastical affairs of those early days.

REVEREND EDWARD TANJORE CORWIN D.D. LITT.D.

Born July 12, 1834, died June 22, 1914

A BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH BY HIS SON, REVEREND CHARLES E.
CORWIN

The Reverend E. T. Corwin D.D. Litt.D., the discoverer and editor of the Ecclesiastical Records of the State of New York, was born in New York City on July 12, 1834. On his father's side he was descended from the Puritans of New England, while through his mother he was related to the Dutch founders of New Netherland.

Doctor Corwin's youth was passed in the metropolis, whose history he knew so well and in whose affairs he was so much interested. He was graduated in 1853 in the first class sent out by the College of the City of New York. In 1856 he was graduated from the Seminary of the Reformed Church at New Brunswick, New Jersey. After a year spent in special linguistic studies, he was ordained and was for six years, 1857-63, the pastor of the Reformed Church of Paramus, New Jersey. His chief pastorate, of twenty-five years, was spent at Millstone, New Jersey. In 1888 he became the rector of Hertzog Hall of the Reformed Church Seminary at New Brunswick, New Jersey. Seven years later he accepted a call from the Reformed Church of Greenport, New York. He served in this, his last pastorate, from 1895 to 1897. In the latter year he was sent by the General Synod of the Reformed church to Holland on a mission of historical exploration. The results of his discoveries in the archives of the Classis of Amsterdam and elsewhere are embodied in the Ecclesiastical Records of the State of New York. After his return to America he devoted himself entirely to literary work. He resided, first at New Brunswick, and, after the death of his wife, in 1905, with his son at North Branch, New Jersey. He died there, very suddenly, on June 22, 1914.

Doctor Corwin was born with a genius for historical research. As a boy it was his delight, when visiting in the country, to copy the inscription on ancestral tombstones. His genealogical studies bore fruit in the Corwin Genealogy, 1872, one of the first books of its class. This work was constructed on a plan original with the author, but since widely copied. In each of his pastorates he became immediately interested in local church and town history. The results of these studies were preserved in published discourses, all of which at once became standards for their class.

For ten years, during his pastorate at Millstone, he received into his home and educated for college, Japanese students. These young men were sent by their government to obtain a western education. Several of them have risen to positions of power and honor in the Sunrise Kingdom.

From the beginning of his ministry he took an interest in the history and larger relations of his own denomination. The Manual of the Reformed Church in America was the result. The first edition of this work, published in 1858, was a small book of one hundred sixty-six pages. A second edition, much larger, appeared in 1869. An edition still further enlarged was issued in 1879. The last edition, of ten hundred eighty-two pages, was published in 1902. This work is unique among church manuals. There is no other denomination in the country which has so much information in regard to its ministry and churches in so accessible a form. A Digest of Synodical Legislation of the Reformed Church in America, brought out in 1906, was the by-product of many years of toil.

It was, however, in the discovery and editing of the Amsterdam Correspondence, incorporated in the Ecclesiastical Records of the State of New York, that Doctor Corwin's historical instincts were most fully revealed. In Holland his ability to find what existed, and to find out about what had been lost, amounted to a peculiar genius. As the hart pants for the water brooks; so he searched for documents of the Dutch colonial period until he found them. The present index, completed by Doctor Corwin, but not issued before his death, brought to conclusion these valuable historical labors.

Besides these major works, he was the author of innumerable essays and magazine articles on historical and biblical subjects, and coeditor in the preparation of several important volumes. He left, unfinished, an elaborate History of the Collegiate Church of

New York City upon which he had been engaged for several years. During the last few months of his life, he had in preparation for the American Society of Church History a list, with sketches, of all the ministers of all denominations who served in the Middle States before 1800. He was at work upon this list on the day he died.

Doctor Corwin's genius was a genius for hard work. His industry was tireless and he had an infinite capacity for taking pains. Not by sudden inspiration but by patient toil did he accomplish so much. To those who knew him personally, the historical scholar was merged in the conscientious, kindly man. He was absolutely upright in his dealings with his fellows, and justice was continually passing into mercy. Each of his pastorates especially that at Millstone, was solidly successful. He was greatly loved by multitudes whom he served in the ministerial office. Although more than twenty-five years had passed since he left Millstone, a delegation of about fifty of his old parishioners made the journey to North Branch to attend his funeral.

His body was laid to rest beside that of his beloved wife in the cemetery at Paramus, New Jersey. This cemetery he himself laid out, near the old stone church of his first pastorate.

INTRODUCTION

An index to the Ecclesiastical Records of the State of New York has been a desideratum ever since the sixth volume of the work was issued, in 1905. These records bring together a larger number of the ecclesiastical documents of the colonial period relating to New York and New Jersey than any other single collection. The original design of the enterprise was to gather the documents of the Reformed Dutch church as the oldest denomination in the State. But as the work progressed it seemed desirable to bring in collateral documents of other religious bodies, because the documents of one denomination throw light on those of other bodies of the same period, the external circumstances being identical. The different bodies were also often so intermingled in their relations or contentions that the history of one could not be well understood without dealing with the history of the others.

Until nearly the close of the seventeenth century, however, there were few other religious bodies to deal with than the Reformed Dutch church. There were, indeed, scattered Congregational and Presbyterian churches on Long Island, in Westchester county and in New Jersey, but until after 1700 these were few in number, separate and independent. Nevertheless, not infrequent references to them will be found in these Records. There were also before 1700 a few Lutheran churches on this territory, but the principal early development of this body was in Pennsylvania. There were also Friends or Quakers and several other varieties of Christians, as well as a few Jews, all of whom will be more or less frequently alluded to. The early French Catholic missionaries from Canada in central New York and the French Huguenots in several different localities are not forgotten.

The Anglican church does not come into distinctive view, except a few references to chaplains of British troops, until the founding of Trinity Church in New York City in 1697. Before this date there were no Episcopal churches in New York or New Jersey. The ministry bill of 1693 was for the support of a "good sufficient Protestant minister," but it was limited in its application to six localities, and these were in only four counties out of the ten which then existed in New York. While English governors claimed that this bill established the Anglican church, its language was so indefinite that its meaning and application were subjects of dispute and litigation down to the Revolution. With the organization in London, in 1701, of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts, Anglican ministers began to be sent over and Anglican churches established. Before the American Revolution this society sent fifty-nine ministers to New York and forty-four to New Jersey, one hundred three in all, and founded from thirty to forty churches on this territory. Some of these ministers were missionaries to the Indians. Allusions will be found in these Records to most if not all of these.

About twenty German Reformed churches were also founded on this territory before 1776. The Reformed Dutch church, however, was the original and principal factor. It founded more than a hundred churches, which were served by more than a hundred ministers during the colonial period. The allusions to these men and organizations are abundant.

The connection of education and religion will also be found frequently alluded to in these volumes, especially facts relating to the origin of Kings (Columbia) College in New York, and to Queens (Rutgers) College in New Jersey. There are also not a few allusions to Princeton College. Items of interest relating to the churches in the Revolutionary struggle are referred to, and especially the subsequent steps of reorganization of the denominations under the new American conditions. The index to these Records, herewith given to the public, will greatly facilitate investigations relating to the churches and schools of colonial times. These volumes, even before they had an index, were the source of new works upon American ecclesiastical history, with several magazine articles on education.

ERRATA ET CORRIGENDA

This apparently extensive list of errata may need a word of explanation. Some of these corrections are of errors of classical clerks in Holland; some, of governors or other officials who, in making their reports, misapprehended the facts; some are errors of old translations which were incorporated in this work; some are editorial, but most are typographical. It is remarkable, however, that in a work of such magnitude, embracing six volumes and 4413 pages, and dealing with many strange names, the errata average only one error to twenty-seven pages.

VOLUME I

The figures at the left are page numbers.

- 19, tenth line from bottom: for the second word, "Guiana" read "Guinea".
- 25, 38, 66-67: Michaelius was sent to Manhattan by the Consistory of Amsterdam, not by the Classis of Enkhuysen, as said. See Article, "Amsterdam, Holland, Church and Consistory of," in this index.
- 33, sixth line from bottom: for "East Laenen" read "East Zaenen".
- 34, third line from bottom: instead of "1623" read "1628". Last line: for "1644" read "1844".
- 35, line 7: instead of "thirty" read "fifty"; line 9: instead of "five hundred" read "three hundred".
- 36, top line: "doop school" should be "dorp school," village school.
- 52, third line from bottom in the Dutch column: for "Minuits" read "Michaelius".
- 77: the words "Malay-Japanese" probably mean "Malay-Javanese".
- 83: for "Cleyerus" read "Clevius".
- 122, fourth line: for "Aug. 4, 1673" read "Aug. 4, 1637". For this date compare: W. H. Kilpatrick, The Dutch Schools of New Netherland and Colonial New York, Wash. 1912, p. 39-50.
- 148: Zloahar should read Eleazar. See page 240.
- 187, under paragraph about Denton: for "1636" read "1656".
- 187: "Historical Collections of the State of New York, iii" should be "Collections of the New York Historical Society, second series, III.137-160".
- 245, eighth and ninth lines from bottom: "West Friesland" should be "Friesland and Stadt en Lande (Groningen)". West Friesland refers to the northern part of the province of North Holland and is the same as the "North Quarter" (Noorder Kwartier).
- 249, third line from bottom: for "letters to New Netherland" read "from New Netherland".
- 254: "O'Callaghan's History of New Netherland, Vol. 97" should be "Vol. 2, p. 97".
- 257, eighth line: for "daughter, by his first wife" read Bogardus's "step-daughter".
- 277: for "Stichtenhorst" read "Slichtenhorst".
- 278, middle of page: for "Sent to New Netherland" read "Changes in New Netherland".
- 335, below middle of page: for "Jewish merchants" read "Jewish merchant"; for "this spring" read "early part of this year" [int voorjaar].
- 357: for "Officially" read "Officials".
- 443, ninth line from bottom: for "propenenten" read "proponenten."

- 447, near bottom: for "secretaries" read "sectaries".
 464: omit "Rev." before John More.
 468, near top of page: for "Plairenis" read "Proëlius". See page 466.
 472, near middle of page: for "New Amsterdam" read "Amsterdam".
 482, below middle of page: for "Nysser" read "Nyssen"; for "Hyber" read "Hibon".
 515: for "preached" read "preacher".
 532: for "Letscoren" read "Zetscoren".
 551, in last paragraph of Selyns' letter: for "when Domine Megapolensis arrives" read "since Domine [Samuël] Megapolensis has arrived".
 564, seventh line: for "for the meeting" read "from the meeting".
 582, fifth line: for "Vinckins" read "Vinkius".
 586, second line from bottom: for "Meyed" read "Meyer".
 608, last line: for "Van Fricht" read "Van Tricht".
 610, ninth line from bottom: for "Van Fricht" read "Van Tricht".
 610, fourteenth line from bottom: for "In this may we" read "In this way we".
 617, eighth and ninth lines: for "Paulas Hendrichsz vander Grift, elder, and Ernest Van Trijht" read "Paulus Leendersz, van der Grift, elder, and Garret Van Tricht".
 626, eighth line: for "Elbing" read "Ebbingh".
 627, near middle of page: for "1672" read "1674".
 660, fourth line: for "Anthony" read "Arensius".
 678, ninth and nineteenth lines from bottom: for "Heer Van Goph" read "Heer van Gogh".

VOLUME II

- 748, near middle of page: for "Dewyer" read "DeMeyer".
 762, middle of page: for "Raay" read "Kaay" or "Kay".
 796, seventh line from bottom: omit "(or Stoffel?)".
 801, seventh line from bottom: fill out line with "by Peter Jacobszen Marius, elder". See page 781.
 804: the date "1682, March 29." seems inconsistent with the date "1682, Nov. 15." on page 841, and the remark about the building of a parsonage on page 866.
 844: for "1682" read "1683".
 879, eighth line: add after "parsonage", "at Jamaica".
 879, date of Dongan's report, for "1684" read "1687"; the date of the third paragraph, "The principal towns" is 1684, but the date of the fourth paragraph, "Every town", is 1687. See 1436.
 900, second paragraph, second line: for "demişsion" read "dismission"; so again in the fifth and sixth paragraphs.
 936, fifth line: for "a Schuyt (boat?)" read "a Sluyter". See "Sluyter" in index.
 949, second line: for "Long Island" read "Staten Island". Compare page 922.
 958, a better translation, tenth to twenty-second lines: "His excellency. Sir Edward Andros, Governor at Boston, who has now also entered upon the government of New York and New Jersey, having in charge the country from Canada to Pennsylvania, belongs to the Church of England. He understands, however, both Dutch and French and attends my [Selyns'] preaching, and that also of M. Daillé. The rising thunderburst of schismatic Labadism, and the bruta et brutalia lightning of fantastic Quakerism, have mostly vanished, without more ado, into smoke. Vorseman and his company embrace, at the most, only twelve Labadistic apostles, and are laboring to fill up their graveyard at New Bohemia, [Md.]. It, [the sect] will all finally come to naught".
 984, sixth line: read "presumably by Leisler, that Nicholson would murder all the attendants" etc.
 1041, fourth line from bottom: for "deained" read "detained".
 1046, for "New York, 1692, Nov. 10", read "New York, 1693, Nov. 10th".
 1074, for "Westchester, Kings and Queens" read "Westchester, Richmond and Queens".

1101: transfer the whole section under "License to collect funds", etc. to page 1168.

1180, fourth line: for "Christopher streets" read "Canal street". In note on Trinity Churchyard, the sentence, ". . . is the most ancient cemetery . . . sections of the yard", contains three errors of fact. It is not "the most ancient cemetery"; it was not "established by the Dutch at their first settlement"; and it is not "nearly a century older than other portions of the yard". For a correct statement about cemeteries in Manhattan, see "Burial places" in this index.

1241, middle of second paragraph: eliminate "(Rev. Nicholas Renselaer)".

1251, ninth line: for "Classis" read "Consistory".

1261: Compare these "signatures" with names on pages 1205, 1211, 1347, 1357, 1366.

1346, heading of letter: for "The Consistory of New York, to" read "Certain Members of the Consistory of New York, to".

1371, ninth line from bottom: eliminate "(corner of Bridge and Whitehall?)".

1435, ninth line: for "Henison" read "Harrison".

1436-37: this undated petition of the Lutherans to Governor Dongan has been misplaced. Its date must be about 1685, and hence should have been placed somewhere about page 900.

VOLUME III

1444, under dates of Elders and Deacons: for "1701, Isaac de Peyster" read "1702, Isaac de Peyster".

1452, second paragraph, fourth line: for "Rev. J. Barton" read "Rev. J. Bartow".

1461, eleventh line from bottom: for "Jan Pieterze Meet (alias Jan Tawbour)" read "Jan. Pietersz, Melt, (alias Jan Tambour)".

1517, third paragraph, first line: for "Adrian Van Rensselaer" read "Kilian Van Rensselaer".

1552, heading: for "Benefactions of Trinity Church" read "Benefactions to Trinity Church".

1591, seventh line below middle of page (Cornbury's error): for "West India Company" read "East India Company".

1608, Petition of the Elders of Domine Freeman: for "1705" read "Jan. 6th, 1707", and transfer the petition to page 1679.

1610, line twelve: for "country" read "county".

1617, third paragraph, second line: for "(Gracherie)" read "(Hepburn)".

1620, third line from bottom: add "not", reading "but is not now to be found".

1639, in title: add "Albany", reading "Allusion to the Old Lutheran Church, Albany".

1658 (error of Domine DuBois): "English ministers were settled in this Province in 1692". No Anglican ministers were settled in New York until 1697, when Rev. William Vesey was settled over Trinity Church, and the next was Rev. John Bartow, in Westchester county in 1702.

1662, in names of Deacons: for "Van Filburg" read "Van Tilburg".

1666, for "D. Meyer Clarke" read "D. Meyer, clerk".

1671, in note: "The Dutch permitted M'Kemie to preach in their church", according to the historian, Smith. But this is not so. They were willing, if the Governor consented, but he did not.

1736, second line from bottom: for "Reapieti" read "Ruperti". See page 1750.

1813, fifth line: for "Bable Bridge in St. Clares" read "Battle Bridge in St. Olafs".

1851, first line: "Regnier" should probably be "Reynier".

1856, fourth line from bottom: for "Schutting" read "Schulting".

1870, second line from bottom: for "Barton" read "Bartow".

1892, heading: for "Nov. 13, 1771", read "Nov. 13, 1711".

1892, sixteenth line from bottom: for "Mr. C. Prudden" read "Mr. John Prudden".

- 1906, fifth line: for "charges" read "changes".
 1913, third paragraph, first line: for "Foyer" read "Poyer".
 1921, 1950: for "John Barbour" read "John Bartow".
 1933, seventh line from bottom: for "Vos" read "Vas".
 1946, ninth line: for "Peatry" read "Peartree".
 2001, third line from bottom: for "resined" read "ruined".
 2034, for "Van Stoorum" read "Van Starveren". See pages 2032, 2037.
 2036, third line from bottom: for "meditation" read "mediation".
 2053, seventh line: for "Governor Hunt" read "Governor Hunter".
 2053, ninth line: for "Mr. Halbot" read "Mr. Talbot".
 2063, sixth line: for "Synegists" read "Synergists".
 2072, second line: for "Conford" read "Concord".
 2086, first line: for "Du Vois" read "DuBois".
 2150, sixth line: for "Van Driesen" read "Van Deursen".
 2227, fourth paragraph, first line: for "1643" read "1696".
 2250, second paragraph, third line: for "1728" read "1723".

VOLUME IV

- 2362, Note: for "Prof. Boel" read "Prof. Roel".
 2377, tenth line: for "Tounemans" read "Sonnemans".
 2489, middle of page: for "Tiehout" read "Tiebout".
 2562, near bottom of page: for "arriver" read "arrived".

MINISTERS IN BRAZIL, 1636-1644<sup>a</sup>

This list supplements and to some extent helps to correct the names of ministers in Brazil given on page 42 of Ecclesiastical Records.

Apricius, Joannes, candidate admitted to examination in 1644.

Biscaretto, Dionysius, candidate admitted to final examination in 1644.

Cralingius, Jacobus, arrived in 1644 and was called to Recife. Died the same year or in 1645.

Dapper (Dapperus), Jacobus, arrived in 1637, with testimonials from the Classis of Schouwen and of Walcheren. Was engaged for two years and left in 1640.

De Foer (Du Four?), Marcus, asked in 1638 to be admitted as a candidate but request was denied on account of his poor health.

De Koninck (Coninck), Samuel, arrived from Holland December 21, 1640 and was called to Recife.

Doornick (Doornicus), Petrus, at Paraiba in 1641. Was dismissed from his charge and sent back to Holland in 1643.

Doreslaer (Doorenslaer), David à (van), in 1636 at Paraiba; later at Frederick-stadt and Mauritania. Was sent in 1638, on account of his knowledge of Portuguese, to the aldeas (plantations), to convert the Brazilians. Left in 1643.

Eduardus, Johannes, at Sierenhain in 1640. Consented the same year to assist Doreslaer among the Brazilians at Gojana and Tapezeria. Left in 1643.

Eckholt (Echolt), Rabirius (Rabberius), at Rio Francisco in 1640. Sent to San Antonio in 1641.

Faas, Antonio, at Recife in 1637.

Folker (Folkerus), Samuel, at South Fort of Paraiba in 1636. Returned to Holland in 1638.

Haselbeck, Joannes, at Paraiba in 1644.

Kempius, Thomas, candidate serving as English chaplain to the army in 1636. Left for Holland on account of ill health and returned to Brazil in 1638. There being no need of an English chaplain, he was allowed to teach school in Portuguese among the Brazilians. He was ordained to the ministry in 1641 and in 1644 was stationed at Paraiba.

Kesselerus, Fredericus,<sup>c</sup> at Recife in 1636. Returned to Holland in 1643.

Ketel (Ketelius), Nicolaus, arrived in 1640 and was called to Recife. Having been nominated in 1641 to go to Loanda São Paulo, in Angola, the church at Recife agreed to let him go for one year on condition that another minister be substituted. In 1644 he was again at Recife.

Lantmannius, ———, died at Recife before November 1640.

Leoninus, Cornelius, sent to Rio Grande in 1640.

Leoninus, Jacobus, mentioned as having left for Holland in 1644.

Le Vaux, Gilbertus, minister of the French Church at Recife.

Michiels, Jan, accepted as a candidate in 1638. Left Paraiba in 1640, the classis having refused to promote him to the ministry.

<sup>a</sup> Compiled from the Minutes of the Classis of Brazil, 1636-44, printed in Dutch in Historisch Genootschap te Utrecht, Kroniek, 1873, XXIX: 298-317, 322-72, 375-419.

- Ofringa, Johannes, at Gojana in 1641 and the same year changed places with Polhemius in Tamarica, where he was still stationed in 1644.
- Ongenade (Ongena), Johannes, in 1641 at Rio Francisco and in 1644 at San Antonio de Cabo.
- Oosterdagh, Johannes, chaplain in the army in 1636. Was severely censured for misconduct in 1639 but retained in the army for lack of another minister. The same year, at Rio Francisco, he was accused of having obtained money from people under false pretenses and finally dismissed.
- Plante, Franciscus, served as chaplain in the army in 1637 and in 1638 became third minister at Recife. He left in 1643 or 1644.
- Polhemius, J. Theodorus, served as chaplain in the army in 1636 and was then sent to Cabo St Augustine. In 1638 he was called to Tamarica, to succeed Stetten, and in 1641 he changed places with Ofringa, at Gojana, where he was still stationed in 1644.
- Ritzema, Lambertus, dies in 1643.
- Schagen, Daniel, at Recife in 1636. Discharged for misconduct in 1638.
- Soler (Solerus), Joachim, at Recife from 1636 to 1644.
- Stetten (Statten, Stettum), Jodocus ã, at Tamarica in 1636. Led a scandalous life and in 1638 was ordered by the classis to leave in five or six months for Holland. The same year he prayed to be reinstated and in 1639 the classis decided to overlook his faults and to confer with the governor of Brazil as to the place where he might be employed. From 1640 to 1644 he was at Cabo St Augustine.
- Van der Poel (Poelius), Cornelius, in 1636 at Recife. Removed in 1637 to the city of Paraiba. and with Doreslaer took turns in preaching in the South Fort. In 1640 he obtained leave to go for seven or eight months to Holland. In October 1641 he was sick but in the same year he offered his services to preach among the Dutch and Brazilians at Rio Grande. In 1644 he was at Paraiba.
- Velthuysen (Velthusen, Velthuysius), Casparus, in 1641 at Sierenhain. Assigned the same year to go with Admiral Lichthart on an expedition. Apparently still in Brazil in 1644.
- Vogel (Vogelius, Vogellius), Nicolaus, in 1640 and 1641 at Porto Calvo and in 1644 called to Recife.

GENERAL INDEX

The pages of the six volumes of the Ecclesiastical Records of the State of New York are numbered consecutively, and therefore the successive volumes are not referred to in this index. The following table, however, is given to indicate the years and pages of each volume.

VOLUME	PAGES	YEARS
I .....	1-744	1621-1680
II .....	745-1442	1680-1701
III .....	1443-2308	1701-1725
IV .....	2309-3146	1725-1750
V .....	3147-3800	1751-1760
VI .....	3801-4413	1761-1800

In the longer articles dates are added to facilitate the finding of the item desired. Dates are also attached to certain names, to distinguish persons of the same name but of different generations. The meaning of the few abbreviations which have been used will be obvious. S. P. G. refers to the English missionary "Society for the Propagation of the Gospel."

<sup>a</sup> This consistory was in the year 1598, made the committee of the classis of Amsterdam, to select chaplains for all ships of the East and West India Companies, to select ministers, comforters of the sick, readers and schoolmasters for all colonies, and to correspond with them. This commission this consistory held for thirty-eight years (1598-1636), when the classis resumed direct control. These facts were for the first, brought to light by Dr H. C. Rogge in his article on "De Gereformeerde Kerk," in Amsterdam in de zeventiende eeuw, 1901-4, and are more fully set forth by Dr A. Eekhof, in his monograph on Bastian Jansz Krol, published in 1910, a pamphlet of one hundred pages. The correspondence with this consistory has not yet been recovered, except in a few instances. A number of new facts about Michaëlius, Bogardus and Krol are exhibited in Doctor Eekhof's monograph.

<sup>a</sup> Everardus Bogardus was sent to Guinea on September 9, 1630, by the Consistory of the Church of Amsterdam. (A. Eekhof, Bastiaen Jansz. Krol, page xlv, of Appendix). In June 1632, he was back in Holland and examined by the classis, and ordained as indicated on page 81 of Ecclesiastical Records. The Consistorial Records say that on July 15, 1632, he was accepted by the West India Company for service in New Netherland. (Eekhof, Appendix, page xxv). On November 8, 1635, Van Dincklagen appears before the Amsterdam Consistory and makes complaint against Bogardus, but action is postponed until Bogardus shall come over. (Eekhof, Appendix xxxi). - Denton, Rev. Richard, emigrates with his congregation from England, settles at Watertown, Mass.,

<sup>b</sup> This evidently means charters for churches or congregations not of the Anglican communion.

<sup>a</sup> Jan Herberding [or Harpending] was an elder in 1694, when Domine Henricus Selyns and Margaret his wife (formerly the widow and the executrix of the Hon. Cornelis Steenwyck), gave the deed to the church for the Manor of Fordham, as directed by the last will of Mr Steenwyck. The deed is a duplicate, inserted in the church book, with the signatures of the grantees and witnesses. Immediately after this deed follows a receipt of the elders, acknowledging said deed. Among the signatures is the autograph of Jan Harberdink, which, on comparison with his signature on the duplicate of his will, in the possession of the church, is found to be precisely the same, thus identifying him as the same person.

In the register of church members the following is found:

Mayken Barenke, January 2, 1661.

Jan Herberding, April 6, 1664.

From this it appears that Mr Harberdink was settled here prior to the first surrender of the colony to the English, and consequently is one of those to whom the right was reserved under the terms of the surrender, of disposing of his inheritance according to the customs of the Dutch, and so releases his devise from the operation of the mortmain statutes of England.

In Liber A, in the register of marriages, is the following entry:

Entered, December 8, 1667: married December 25, 1667. Jan Harberding, single, from Bolchold in Westphalia; and Mayken Barenke, single, from Haerlem, Holland.

From the Register of Officers, it appears that Jan Harberdinck was chosen Deacon in 1682-84; 1685-87; 1690-92. Elder, in 1693-95; 1697-99; 1707-9; 1712-14. a This was recovered in 1841, and sent to New York and given to Harvard College.

<sup>a</sup> A copy of this letter of Domine Megapolensis was sent to the Classis of Amsterdam and was secured by Mr Brodhead in 1842. It consists of nine very closely written pages in Latin, in the peculiar chirography of the times. It was deciphered and translated by Dr Louis Bevier of Rutgers College, in 1907, and published in parallel columns, Latin and Dutch, by the Collegiate Church, making twenty-two pages. Only one hundred copies were issued. It was not published in the Ecclesiastical Records because of its polemical character. The original is now in the archives of General Synod in the Sage Library at New Brunswick, New Jersey.

<sup>a</sup> New Utrecht is now, for the first, formally included in his charge. He lived at Flatbush, and refers to three other churches. These must have been Brooklyn, Flatlands and New Utrecht, 700.

<sup>b</sup> Governor Andros was not very well posted on the topic on which he was reporting. He says, "one church of England, several Presbyterians, and Independents, Quakers and Anabaptists, of several sects, some Jews; but Presbyterians and Independents most numerous and substantial. There are about 20 churches." He does not refer to the Dutch churches at all, unless he includes them under Presbyterians. There were in 1678, 12 Dutch churches, 5 Presbyterian and 5 Congregational. There was no church of England except the chaplain to the troops.

<sup>b</sup> At first, the West India Company assumed the maintenance of all ministers sent out under their auspices, but as their fortunes waned, the company urged the churches to assist in supporting their ministers, and thus began the development of the voluntary system. The charter referring to support of ministers by Patroons on their manors, found only one field for its application, that of Albany. During the term of the second minister in that place, the Patroon withdrew his support altogether, and the congregation was required to raise the salary, (1658) 424; with the English conquest, of course, all help from the West India Company ceased. The fluctuating condition of ministerial salaries for the next generation is indicated by the references above given.

 Meyer, Rev. Hermanus, allusions, 3896, (1764) 3925, 3927; objects to subordination to a classis in Holland because of the civil oath to Great Britain, 3929; bound by his call to be subordinate, asserts Ritzema, 3930; church of Kingston willing to be subordinate,
 3934-35; allusion, 3943; Meyer objects to subordination, his exact position, Ritzema's remarks thereon, the civil oath, advised to put Meyer under censure, 3944-
 47; refuses subordination, 3946-
 47; may be censured and deposed by his consistory, 3948; consistory of Kingston invites Fryenmoet and Cock with their consistories to meet and try Meyer, 3952-53; is summoned, refuses to appear before an irregular body, 3953-54; the charges, is suspended, 3955-59;

 against Meyer by the church of Kingston, (Feb. 3, 1766) 4032-35; consistory invites the consistories of four neighboring churches to convene and consider them, 4035; summoned to appear, 4039;
 declares the convention illegal, 4039; the charges presented to the body, protest of 26 members of the church against the legality of the body, New Paltz, the nearest church, not invited, 4039-40; the trial proceeds, character of the charges, suspended for six weeks, if not then penitent, to remain under censure until classis gives a decision, Meyer informed, protests against their action, 4041-46;
 classis asserts* that Meyer is subject to them, although not sent by them, 4051; classis exhorts the brethren not to stand too stiffly on technicalities, 4051; allusion, 4059; Meyer calls a general meeting of all the Dutch churches, the action of the former convention against Kingston condemned,
 (Aug. 13, 1766) 4068, 4069, 4076;

 Smith, William, jr, (born 1728, died 1793), describes Trinity Church, (1757) 3685, 3728, 3748; reply to his "History of New York," by Dr. Barclay, 3887, 3890; deacon in Presbyterian church, (1766) 4046-48; allusion, (1769) 4150<sup>b</sup>

<sup>a</sup> The allusion in Domine Selyns's letter of September 30, 1696 to two Episcopal ministers in the city at that date must refer to Rev. Edmund Mott, chaplain to the troops, and Rev. Symon Smith who was in the city at the time as a possible candidate for the rectorship of Trinity Church, possibly the same as the missionary whose name precedes.

<sup>b</sup> According to the ministry act of 1693, the town vestries had the sole authority to choose ministers for the parishes mentioned in that bill. Owing to the character of the population, these vestrymen were mostly dissenters, and chose ministers of their own views; also often refused to pay Anglican rectors. Hence frequent litigation. By a clause in the charter of Trinity Church, after the call of Vesey by the town vestry, the choice of ministers for this church was controlled by an ecclesiastical vestry, although the town vestry held the purse.
